Level I Emergency: Minor Emergencies, Breaking a Medium sized argument
Level II Emergency: Lesser Emergencies, Breaking a Large sized argument, lesser allegations, minor breaches in TOS
Level III Emergency: Medium Emergencies, Breaking a dangerous argument, medium allegations, breaches in TOS that must be noticed, racism/sexism allegations
Level IV Emergency: Large Emergencies, all active operators must follow protocol, emergent major allegations, dangerous breaches in TOS, slur allegations, minor data breach Level V Emergency: Severe Emergencies, all active operators must follow protocol, site breaking allegations/TOS breaches, major data breach, etc.

Red; Reroute the stream to another, possibly for maintenance	Blue; Diffuse an argument using common sense, use alts if needed.	Yellow; Diffuse a major argument by reporting (major is when arguments become irrelevant)	Green; False emergency, diffuse in apology
Orange; MAJOR Death Threats/Doxxing, report to police	Code Lush; Horrid Fe[redacted]sh or Zoo/P[redacted]doph[redacted]e	Pink; A user is posting po[redacted]n, recite operation darndarth AND operation forwork.[1]	Rot; A death happened that needs response.
Pinkish; In case of a interceptional breach, vandalise the MSMG Wiki.[2]

[1] Operation Forwork and Operation Darndarth are operations to slow user down, by petitioning spying or rioting.
[2] Extra instructions included; vandalise the pages and info boxes, in Level V emergencies edit them multiple times to make rollback hard.